

MAD MURDERER IS IN A STEEPLE

Of Village Church Using It as a
Fortress Which Can Not Be Entered.

KILLS FARMER AND WIFE

Police Try to Reach Him But Repulsed with Two Killed and Others Wounded.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 6.—A mad murderer, August Gomsies, has since yesterday morning made an impregnable fortress out of the steeple of the village church at Hloimany. Armed with a repeating rifle and 500 cartridges, he took refuge in the steeple after killing a farmer and his wife and wounding their daughter.

The police tried to reach him but were repulsed with two killed and fourteen wounded. A large force of police surrounded the church today but their commander confessed they were helpless. A narrow stairway is the only way to reach the steeple and when anyone attempts to ascend it Gomsies forces them to descend. This morning he shouted from the steeple, "It is a good thing you let me sleep last night. Now I have fresh strength."

Here to the Model Shoe Store.

It will be interesting to the public in general to know that the Osburn Shoe Company, located at 309 West Pike street, has changed its name to the Model Shoe Store. Messrs. D. W. Jacobs and Ernest Swiger, two of Clarksburg's most successful and prominent business men have purchased a large interest in the concern. The general management and buying has been turned over to R. E. Clinton, who for many years has been one of the best shoe men of the state. Previously to coming here in March he was connected with one of the best and largest exclusive shoe stores in Washington, D. C. Upon his arrival he installed what is known throughout the East as being the best fitting method used, "the footograph." It will be interesting to have this wonderful fitting method demonstrated to you. The new organization feels sure that all who deal with the Model shoe store will receive complete satisfaction. BOARD OF TRADE DIRECTORS MEET

In Adjourned Session and Look after Several Matters of Much Importance.

Last evening the board of trade directors held its adjourned meeting from May 29, at which time quite a few matters of public interest were discussed. Preliminary plans were made for the annual meeting and election to be held Friday evening, June 26. It is the idea of the directors to make this meeting one for public discussion of civic questions open to all citizens as well as for the election of five new directors, being one-third of the board, for a term of three years. In this connection a committee of five was appointed to carefully consider all the interests of the town and to suggest the names of directors to be voted on, though, of course, other nominations might be made at the meeting. At committee was also appointed to co-operate with the secretary in re-drafting a new constitution and by-laws to be submitted to the members of this committee for adoption or rejection. Names of the committees will be announced later. Plans for a new interurban station contemplated by the Monongahela Valley Traction Company were submitted for the inspection of the directors. The station is to be three stories of reinforced concrete, estimated to cost $35,000 to $40,000. The plans of this station met with the hearty approval of the board, which itself is hopeful that construction of the station might be commenced at an early date.

TRADE COMMISSION TO MAKE INQUIRERS

Into Corporations Engaged in Interstate Commerce and Given Great Power.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—The Covington trade commission bill, the first measure on the administration anti-trust program as considered in the House would create a commission with broad inquisitorial powers over corporations engaged in interstate commerce. The bill would turn over to a commission of three members the power now held by the Bureau of Corporations in the department of commerce, and confer on the commission additional powers.

The bill provides for the appointment of three commissioners, no more than two of one political party, by the president. The commissioners would serve six years, at $10,000, and employ a secretary at $5,000. The commissioners would be barred from engaging in any other vocation while serving.

After abolishing the bureau of corporations and the positions of commissioner and assistant commissioner of corporations the bill would turn over the organization and powers of

DOINGS OF CHICAGO HEIRESS WHO LEAVES PAPA'S LOVELY HOME FOR VIRGINIA FARM GIVE HER PROMINENT PLACE IN THE NEWS

Miss Helen Morton on one of her favorite horses; her father's home in Chicago suburb; view from Miss Morton's home at Delaplane, Va.

Miss Helen Morton, Chicago heiress and niece of the late Secretary of Navy Paul Morton, is making a good deal of readable news for the papers these days. Not long ago she slipped away from her father's beautiful home in a Chicago suburb, went to Delaplane, Va., and there bought a farm, which she is now operating. She gave out an interview the other day telling how "pop got peeved," thus furnishing her an incentive to quit home without telling her family where she was going. "Pop" intimates that he may refuse to pay the many bills which Helen is running up in Virginia.

The gathering is to be much larger than was at first planned, and all sections of West Virginia will be represented in it. White Oak camp No. 20, of Fairmont, will run a special train to Grafton and has arranged to have 300 men in line. Camps in Huntington, Charleston, Parkersburg, Morgantown, Terra Alta, Keyser, Bellington, Beverly, Philippi, Buckhannon and in many other places will be represented. More than a thousand Woodmen are expected to attend.

Morris Sheppard, United States senator from Texas, who is the sovereign banker of the order, will deliver the chief memorial address. A big street parade will take place from the Woodmen's hall in the Brinkman building to the Blumont cemetery, where three monuments, erected to the memory of members who died during the last year, will be unveiled. The Uniform Rank of the order will have at least 300 uniformed men in line. All the state camp officers are expected to be present and they will have charge of a meeting to be held in the court house after the services at the cemetery.

Members of both the Clarksburg camps are asked to gather promptly at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning in the lodge hall in the Bell building on North Fourth street.

MANSION BURNED

As Well as Valuable Furniture by An Arson Squad of Suffragets.

LONDON, June 6.—The campaign of the arson squad of the suffragets continued today when women set fire to and destroyed a fine mansion about thirty miles from here. The mansion was filled with valuable furniture. The house adjoined the historic parish church, which is believed to have been the real object. This, however, the women were unable to enter.

This incendiary fire is considered parts of a plan of the militant organization to give the people of England no rest until the parliamentary vote is granted to women.

CLOSE REGULATION OF RAILWAY BONDS

And Stocks is Prepared by the Rayburn Bill as Prepared by House Committee.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—"Close regulation of the stocks and bonds of railroads by the Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by a substitute for the Rayburn bill, prepared by the House interstate and foreign commerce committee and considered by the House as the least measure of the administration anti-trust program. The committee divided the Rayburn measure into two sections in order that one might stand if the constitutionality of the other failed in the courts. The bill makes it unlawful for any common carrier to issue stocks, bonds, notes or other evidence of indebtedness without the approval of the commission."

The bill broadens the power of the commission to require information from railroads and other common carriers and prescribes an elaborate system of reports. The commission would be authorized by the bill to require periodical or special reports on the financial condition of railroads, balanced statements of receipts and expenditures in relation to capital accounts and all other financial transactions.

Before issuing stocks or bonds, the bill would require railroads to file with the commission a certificate of modification, showing in detail the character of the securities, the purposes for which they are to be issued, and the disposition to be made of them. Such certificates the bill makes public record and open to inspection. The bill would give the commission wide authority for the examination of the books of railroads and would provide penalties for the concealing of information from the commission.

Giving the commission authority to supervise issues of securities the bill said:

CLAYTON BILL TO STRENGTHEN LAW

Already on the Statute Books against Monopolies and Restraint of Trade.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Clayton bill, a part of the administration anti-trust program, carries provisions designed to strengthen and support the Sherman law and other acts against monopolies and restraints of trade. As framed by administration leaders and passed by the House the bill contained:

"Prohibitions against price discriminations or arbitrary refusal to sell natural mineral products and against the enforcement of conditional 'leases' of contracts of sales under which lessees or purchasers agree not to deal in the products of competition of the seller or lessor; a provision that decrees in suits brought by the government under the anti-trust law shall be final evidence in suits brought against the defendant by others, involving the anti-trust law; provisions against holding companies and interlocking directorates in concerns under the jurisdiction of the federal government; and provisions guaranteeing labor and farmer's organizations their legal existence under the Sherman law, limiting the use of the injunction in labor disputes, and providing for jury trials in cases of indirect contempt of court."

In addition the bill clears up various jurisdictional questions and questions of procedure which have arisen in the administration of the anti-trust laws.

Jury to Miss Jay.

CHICAGO, June 6.—A verdict awarding $20,000 damages to Miss Georgia Jay against Homer Rodeheaver, choirmaster for Billy Sunday, Evangelist, for breach of promise to marry, was returned today by a jury in the circuit court.

Miss Jay alleges that she met Rodeheaver in Iowa, that they became friends and he proposed marriage to her and was accepted. Later she declared, he refused to marry her "because marriage would interfere with her career." Taxicab rides, long strolls and discussion of future plans figured largely in the testimony of Miss Jay. Evidence was presented showing that Rodeheaver was paid $100 a week and traveling expenses.

Banquet at Waldo hotel.
G. W. Dudderar, secretary of the local board of trade, has received the following letter for publication in connection with the convention:

"My Dear Mr. Dudderar:

"Kindly give publicity through your newspapers along the following line:

"The meeting of the Business Men's Association in Clarksburg, June 9 and 10 is being looked forward to by the commercial interests of the entire state. It is claimed that in addition to perfecting the credit rating for use by retail merchants, and the system of collection of delinquent accounts, certain reforms will be offered, specific and concrete form."

"Notwithstanding that this association is the newest among the commercial organizations it appears to be the most active. In the line of new legislation, in addition to the untrue and misleading advertisement bill and the itinerant vendor measure, which have been approved in a former convention and were presented to the last legislature, entirely new laws will be proposed by the committee on legislation, and an appropriation will be sought to permit the committee to have a representative in Charleston to look after the welfare of the bills during the session of the legislature."

"An amended bad check law has been prepared, as has the amendment to the embezzlement section of the code. It has long been the desire of this state's legislature to secure in this state a statute similar to the garnishee law of the state of Ohio, but it has always been held that such a law in West Virginia would be unconstitutional. However, during the last year every section of the code has been examined and analyzed, and decisions by the courts of West Virginia bearing on the subject given careful consideration. The result of this work is that a plan has been evolved which is said to be not only constitutional but fair and equitable to all. The details of this plan will be presented to the convention."

"What promise to be a most interesting feature of the program will be an address by C. Burgess Taylor, of Wheeling, along the line of the adoption in West Virginia of a law similar to the Canadian labor disputes act. Mr. Taylor has been studying this subject for some time and was instrumental in bringing McKenzie King, the father of the Canadian law, to this state for a series of lectures last winter."

"The situation in some sections of our state at this writing indicates that some remedial agency must be sought, and if Mr. Taylor's plan has merit, his address will receive close attention."

"The administration of the Business Men's Association is to be highly commended for its progressive policies and its accomplishments, and especially for its well directed effort to put laws on the books in the interest of the state."
